

ORAL EXPRESSION	Exceeds Expectations	Meets Expectations—The average native speaker could understand	Below Expectations—The average native speaker could understand with accommodation.	Seriously Deficient—The average native speaker could not understand.
Vocabulary	Uses extremely varied vocabulary with fine nuance of meaning.	Uses varied and relatively accurate vocabulary.	Uses limited vocabulary and resorts to vague and general forms of expression. Uses English.	Uses incorrect terms, repetition, cannot make him/herself understood
Grammar	Coordinates tenses and moods, subordinates clauses, demonstrates grammatical sophistication.	Use tense and mood correctly, is able to subordinate clauses.	Makes tense and mood mistakes, avoids subordination. Makes agreement and conjugation errors	Grammatical errors impede comprehension of listener.
Register	Demonstrates sensitivity to register in vocabulary and forms of address.	Demonstrates understanding of register in vocabulary and forms of address.	Does not distinguish between formal and informal language.	Uses inappropriate forms of address and vocabulary.
Pronunciation	Excellent pronunciation with very few errors.	Makes a small number of errors, appropriate for a non-native speaker.	Makes a significant number of errors.	Pronunciation inhibits comprehension.